

With a promised star line-up of famous Scots including ex-Eurythmics singer Annie Lennox OBE, racing legend Sir Jackie Stewart, GMTV presenter Lorraine Kelly, and last year's winner, renowned artist Jack Vettriano, The Johnnie Walker Blue Label Great Scot Awards 2011 gala was awash with Scottish tartan kilts, haggis, and one of Scotland's most famous exports: Johnnie Walker whisky.

This recent awards dinner was hosted at the newly launched Boisdale of Canary Wharf restaurant and bar, boasting two floors of space, the biggest Whisky Bar imaginable (12,000 bottles of malt whisky!), a Scottish-themed restaurant, Cigar Room with Cuban Cigar library and a jazz stage poised to host the hottest acts on the London blues, jazz and soul scene.
